SATURDAY, JUNE 17. 1738.

No. 930.

Yesterday arrived a Mail from Holland.

Vienna, May 31. O. S.

H E Colonel Picolomini who commanded at Meadia, but was obliged to surrender it to the Turks by Capitulation, march'd out of that Post the 16th with 2 Pieces of Cannon, and all the Honours of War, being convey'd by a Turkish Detachment consisting of 1200 Men to Carensebes, a Place not far from Temeswaer. In his Way thither he had the Mortification to be an Eye Witness of the sad Consequences of the Surrender of Meadia, and of the Entrance of the Turks into the Bannat of Temeswaer. He saw Villages burnt and destroy'd, and the Enemies Parties marching to commit fresh Disorders: He saw the Peasants and Inhabitants of the Country flocking in Shoals, with Weapons in their Hands, to aid them in their cruel Designs. From the very Walls of Temeswaer, they have the melancholy Prospect of Country Seats and Villages in Flames.

This unhappy Situation of Affairs, has occasioned a Grand Council of War to be held at Belgrade, present the Velt Marshals Konigsegg and Wallis, the Count de Neuperg, and several other Generals; in which, after considering that now the Turks are Masters of the Bannat of Temeswaer, they may without many Obstacles penetrate into Transilvania; most of the Generals gave their Advice for turning the Bulk of the Imperial Army into the Bannat, while the rest of the Troops should act along the Danube. The Great Duke of Tuscany, and Prince Charles his Brother, set out three Days ago for Belgrade. The Duke goes by the Danube, but the Prince by Land, pursuant to the Advice of Dr. Garelli, a Court Physician, who judg'd that the Air of the Water might be detrimental to his Health.

The Commandant of Temeswaer writes Word to Court, that a Detachment which he had sent to observe the Motions of the neighbouring Peasants, had apprehended near 200 of them and brought them to that Place, where it was discover'd that they were of that Gang who attack'd the Detachment which guarded the Military Chest of the Army, and the Baggage of the Count de Konigsegg. The Commandant also takes Notice, that a great Number of those Vagrants had enter'd the Villages of Maythenbeck and Oravitz, and not only ruin'd the Copper Mines, but put all the Inhabitants there to the Sword, who had not Time to make their Escape.

The Emperor has this Week received Bills of Exchange for a Part of the 4 Millions of Florins which he has caused to be negotiated in the Austrian Netherlands, and the rest is expected in Money or in Bills, in a Month's Time.

The Count de Hohenemby, a General of Horse, has received an Order from the Aulick Council of War, to repair forthwith to the Milanese, on Account, as 'tis said, of the Dispute between the Courts of Vienna and Turin.

After all the Talk for 3 Weeks past of an approaching Peace with the Turks, the mighty Hopes which the Publick had conceived of it begin to dwindle, and 'tis said that the Signing of the Preliminaries depends on a more explicit Answer, which is expected from the Porte, in pursuance of what was agreed to in the Conferences at Constantinople between the French Ambassador and the Grand Seignior's Ministers. As for the Present of a Gold Medal set in Diamonds, which was given to the Valet de Chambre of the Marquis de Mirepoix, on his Return the last Time from Constantinople, it was not so much owing to the News that he brought, as to the Misfortune he had to break his Arm by the Fall of the Post Chais: he rode in, which betwixt this City and Belgrade was overturned. Mean time the Turks take all the Advantages they can in Hungary, have seiz'd all the Islands they can come at in the Danube, and in that of Beck near Widdin, they have resolved to build a Fort.

Meadia, which is the Post that Colonel Picolomini was forc'd to surrender by Articles, after having defended it many Weeks with very great Bravery and Prudence, is situate between two Hills, at the Foot of which a Brook runs. In 1717 the Germans erected a Fort there, which being neglected during the whole Time of the Peace, was quite decay'd at the Beginning of the present War. A little beyond it, at the Foot of a steep Rock, there's a square Redoubt casemated, &c. with Port Holes for Cannon, as well as Small Arms, and between these 2 Forts lies the Village of Meadia; but as the Redoubt was not sufficient to defend that important Pass, the Fort was rebuilt last Winter, and Troops put into it in the same Manner as into the Redoubt.

Petersburg, May 23, O. S. The Secretary of M. Rondean, the British Minister, who is just return'd hither from Constantinople, which Place he left the 8th of April last, says, the Grand Vizier had declared, that the Grand Seignior was very well pleased with the Mediation of the Maritime Powers; that consequently their Ministers might communicate their Proposals to him, in case they had any to make on the Part of Russia; but that he heartily wish'd they were for that reason furnished with new Full Powers.

The Court has received an Express from Count de Munich, that one of the 3 Divisions of his Army is on the March, and that the 2 others are forthwith to follow. The last Advices from General Lasci say, that he had already march'd his Army above 150 Miles into the Desert.

We soon expect to have the Particulars of a new Incursion made by Donduc Ombo into the Cuban, where in the mean time 'tis said, he destroy'd no less than 1400 Habitations of the Tartars, and carry'd off above 1000 Prisoners, besides abundance of Cattle and other Booty.

Our Forces are the later in taking the Field on the Side of the Crim Tartary, because of the Difficulty of finding Forage for the Horses before the Month of June: As to Provisions for the Men, tho' 'tis impossible to settle Magazines upon the Road, and tho' there's none at all to be had in the Country, which is to be the Seat of War, yet by what follows, it appears that such Precautions are taken that they will not starve. An Ensign of Foot is allow'd 3 Horses and 6 Oxen, 4 of which latter are to draw in Waggon, and two in a Cart. He is also allow'd one Side of an Ox and 4 Porkers salted, 2 Gallons of Brandy, a Sack or two of Lentils and Pease, two Barrels of Meal, some Barrels of Biscuit, a Cask of Butter, another of Vinegar, &c. besides a small Quantity of Salt, Tea, Coffee, Sugar and Spice. When they are in the Field, as fast as the Provisions are spent, and their Carriages thereby becomes less Necessary, he is to kill one Ox after another, except only 2 or 3, and to burn his Waggon or Cart, reserving to himself no more than a single Carriage and a couple of Oxen, to carry his Baggage back into Winter Quarters.

The Lieutenants, Captains, and other Officers, form their own portable Magazines on the same Footing, and receive their Provisions from the Czarina's Magazines, who deducts the Cost out of their Pay, which is by this means partly advanced before-hand, with so much the more Advantage to them, because if they should fail of receiving the Residue during the Campaign, they would not be so sensible of the Want of it, since being already provided with what was needful, they would have little or no occasion for Money.

NEW ENGLAND.

Boston, May 8. On Thursday last Mr. Isaac Royall, with his Lady, went from hence to his Father's fine Seat at Charlestown, attended by a considerable Number of Gentlemen and Ladies; and by his Excellency the Governor's Leave, a Troop of Horse met them as they landed at the Ferry Place in Charlestown, and on the Road they were join'd by a large Company of Foot, from whom and the Troop, they were saluted with three Volleys as they alighted from their Chariot at the Hon. Col. Royall's House, and after being again saluted from a Number of Cannon plac'd there on this Occasion, the Officers and Soldiers went to the Tavern, where a plentiful Dinner was prepared for them, and the Gentlemen and Ladies that accompanied the new-married Couple, were entertain'd in the most generous and elegant Manner at Col. Royall's House.

By a Vessel from the Bay of Honduras we hear, that as one of our Sloops was lately entering the Bay, she was pursued by three large Pettiaugers full of Spaniards, and the Master of the Sloop seeing they would soon be up with him, encouraged his Men to defend themselves and Vessel, setting before them the wretched Captivity they would suffer if taken, and the Probability there was of beating off their Enemies, if they behaved as Englishmen. This Speech so encouraged the Men, that they took to their close Quarters, resolved to defend themselves to the last, and were immediately boarded in three different Places; but they quickly cleared the Deck, and kill'd several of the Spaniards, who finding such hot Work, fell a Stern, and three of them had the Impudence to attempt to get in at the Cabin Windows, but they were soon dispatch'd, which so dishearten'd the rest, that they all put off from the Sloop; which our brave Fellows observing, immediately issued out of their Quarters, fired off their Swivel Guns into their Pettiaugers, and kill'd them Abundance of Men. By this brave and bold Defence, our gallant Countrymen preserv'd their Vessel and their Liberty.

By a Letter from South Carolina we are inform'd, that they have passed a Law to give a Man 700 a Year for 7 Years, to instruct the People there to manufacture Silks.
